The Rule of Law in the technological age

Speaker Biographies

Dr. Julinda Beqiraj is Maurice Wohl Senior Research Fellow in European Law, Bingham Centre for the Rule of Law, at BIICL. She joined the Bingham Centre in 2014 and has worked extensively on RoL and access to justice related issues, including in the context of the UN Sustainable Development Agenda, and most recently on the ROL challenges posed by COVID emergency regulations. She also works as a legal expert on court efficiency and judicial statistics for the CoE Commission on the Efficiency of Justice (CEPEJ). Before joining the Centre, Julinda was Research Fellow in public international law at the University of Trento where she also lectured courses on international law and EU law topics.

Dr. Tatjana Evas is a Policy Analyst in the European Parliamentary Research Service (until recently) and Associate Professor of EU and Comparative law (on leave) at Tallinn University of Technology. In 2011, she received Bremen Studienpreis Award for best PhD Thesis is social science and humanities. She has extensive professional experience including at the Columbia Law School, New York; Riga Graduate School of Law; Center for Policy Studies, Budapest; Jean Monnet Centre for European Studies, Bremen and European University Institute, Florence. She is author of several publications on prestigious national and international journals. Her current research work focuses on the regulation of new technologies, use of AI technologies in courts, and methodology for impact assessment.

Ms. Merethe Eckhardt is Director of Development at the Danish Court Administration and is responsible a.o for business development, law, communication, education, organization and the international areas. She has substantial experience in executive management. Ms. Eckhardt is a member of CEPEJ working group on effective justice who initiated the charter on Artificial Intelligence that was adopted by the European Council in dec 2018. The working group is continuing the efforts to look into use of artificial intelligence in the area of justice. Ms. Eckhardt is also member of the Advisory Panel of IOJT – The International Organization of Judicial Training as well as member of the Governing Board at Academy of European Law (ERA).

Professor Mark Findlay is a Professor of Law at Singapore Management University, and Director of its Centre for AI and Data Governance, where he is a Professorial Research Fellow In addition, he has honorary Chairs at the Australian National University, the University of Edinburgh and the University of New South Wales, as well as being an Honorary Senior Research Fellow at the British Institute for International and Comparative Law, and an Honorary Fellow of the Law School, University of Edinburgh. Professor Findlay is the author of 29 monographs and collections and over 150 refereed articles and book chapters. He has held Chairs in Australia, Hong Kong, Singapore, England and www.binghamcentre.biicl.org

Ireland. or over 20 years he was at the University of Sydney as the Chair in Criminal Justice, the Director of the Institute of Criminology. Most recent publications include 'Law's Regulatory Relevance' (https://www.e-elgar.com/shop/law-s-regulatory-relevance) and 'Principled International Criminal Justice: Lessons from tort law' (https://www.routledge.com/Principled-International-Criminal-Justice-Lessons-from-Tort-Law/Findlay-Chuah-Hui-Ying/p/book/9780815367000. Currently he is working on COVID-19 regulatory issues represented in the following discussion papers. More material by Professor Findlay is available on the CAIDG website.

Hon. A.D. (Dory) Reiling Ph.D. Mag.Iur. (1950) was a senior judge of the Amsterdam District Court until she retired in 2018. Formerly a senior judicial reform specialist at the World Bank and IT program manager for the Netherlands judiciary, she was actively involved in designing and building digital procedures for the civil courts in the Netherlands. She regularly lectures on court IT and AI and works on IT with judiciaries around the world. She acted as an expert for CCJE, CEPEJ, the Netherlands Parliament, UNODC, Amnesty, and EU High Level expert group on AI. She is on the editorial boards of the International Journal for Court Administration and of Computerrecht. Her publications are on www.doryreiling.com, her tweets on www.twitter.com/doryontour and her Technology for Justice blog on www.doryreiling.blogspot.nl.