International and Comparative Law

The Government Legal Service Environment Group, the British Institute of International and Comparative Law and the UK Environmental Law Association invite you to discuss:

The Polar Environment: Policy, Legal and Scientific Perspectives

Speakers:

Jane Rumble, Head of the UK Polar Regions Department, FCO

Jill Barrett, Arthur Watts Senior Research Fellow in Public International Law, BIICL

Jennifer Jackson, British Antarctic Survey.

The Polar Regions are of vital environmental importance, not least because of their role as a barometer for climate change and their unique biodiversity. Geopolitically and legally, however, they are truly poles apart. These three eminent speakers will give their perspectives about this fascinating topic.

Venue: Defra, Nobel House, Smith Square, SW1P 2AL, Room 808

Date: Wednesday 23 July 2014

Time: 18:00 -19:30 (please arrive between 17:30 and 18:00)

CPD Points to be confirmed

Refreshments will be available

Attendance is free however advance registration is required. Places will be allocated on a first come first served basis.
