

British Institute of International and
Comparative Law

Events

State Aid, Tax and the Notion of Selective Advantage

Thurs 26 Mar 2015
14:00-18:00

Followed by a drinks reception

University Foundation,
Egmontstraat 11,
rue d'Egmont - 1000
Brussels, Belgium

4 CPD hours

This event will be looking at the EU state aid rules of certain tax practices in Member States in the context of aggressive tax planning by certain multinationals. It will consider the question of when a tax provision derogating from a wider tax rule confers a selective advantage on those undertakings benefitting from it. The OECD arm's length principle will be discussed and transfer pricing including national tax authority's discretion and margin of interpretation.

Speakers

- Humbert Drabbe, Fipra, former DG Competition Director of State Aid
- David Evans, Executive Director, International Tax, Ernst & Young LLP
- Dr Liza Lovdahl Gormsen, British Institute of International and Comparative Law (BIICL)
- Professor Leigh Hancher, University of Tilburg
- Jonathan Schwarz, Temple Tax Chambers
- Karl Soukup, European Commission, DG Competition Director of State Aid
- Dr Rita Szudoczky, Vienna University of Economics and Business

Moderators

- Dr Liza Lovdahl Gormsen, BIICL
- Kristina Nordlander, Partner, Sidley Austin LLP

Registration

This event is free to attend, however advance registration is required.

Find out more and book online at www.biicl.org/stateaid

Event Cancellation Policy

Before registering please view our Event Cancellation Policy at www.biicl.org/cancellationpolicy

FOLLOW US

