Biographical Information

The Global Rule of Law Exchange
Live Webcast: Development and the Rule of Law: from Research to Practice
5 November 2015

1. Ajoy Datta, Research Fellow, Overseas Development Institute (ODI). See full bio online

2. Justin Haccius is a Rule of Law Adviser within the Governance, Open Societies and Anti-Corruption Department in the UK Government’s Department for International Development (DFID). He is a qualified solicitor in England & Wales, and recently qualified in Scotland. He has worked in conflict prevention with the European Commission and for the Irish Embassy in The Hague on the Organisation for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons. Developing world experience includes with the International Committee of the Red Cross in Sri Lanka, Afghanistan and Colombia, and with the United Nations in Liberia and South Sudan. Justin established a regional ASEAN human rights program for the American Bar Association Rule of Law Initiative and a programme on land disputes for the World Bank Justice for the Poor program in Vanuatu.

3. Georgia Harley is a Justice Reform Specialist in the Governance Global Practice of the World Bank, working predominantly in Eastern Europe and Central Asia. She task manages justice reform projects in Serbia and Croatia, and works with teams across the Western Balkans and in East Africa. In previous roles at the Bank, she's worked on evidence-based pro-poor approaches to rule of law reform. Her recent work on measuring implementation gaps is here and her recent blog posts here. Prior to joining the Bank, Ms. Harley was Executive Legal Adviser to the Australian Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade. She earned a Bachelor of Arts and Laws (Honours) from the University of Queensland, a Master of Laws from the Australian National University and a Master in Economic Development from Duke University.

4. Brian Lucas, Manager, Governance and Social Development Resource Centre (GSDRC). See full bio online

5. Nicole Stremlau, head of Programme in Comparative Media Law and Policy, Research Fellow, Centre of Socio-Legal Studies, University of Oxford. See full bio online